Local girl, horse to vie for World Championship

BELLE GLADE—A 17-year-old Belle Glade girl will be entering the elite of the Quarter Horse world in little more than ten days from now when she participates in the American Junior Quarter Horse Association (AJQHA) Sixth World Championship Show and Convention Aug. 1-6 in Tulsa, Okla.

Mitchell Weeks, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Murray Weeks of 233 Royal Palm Way, will be one of only 13 youths from Florida to take part in the five-day event.

There are 27 events which youths from throughout the United States, Canada and Mexico can enter in more than 2,000 approved shows to attain their standings.

More than 1,100 entries will be competing at this year's show for more than $30,000 in prizes. This show is unique in that it is an invitational show, with those eligible being the top ten youths in each of the 27 AJQHA events. In addition, each of the 42 affiliated state Junior Quarter Horse Associations may send two entries per event.

Besides Miss Weeks, a girl from Homestead will enter the world competition in western riding. Miss Weeks may also get the chance to compete in the showmanship event. She was chosen as the first alternate from Florida for that.

Miss Weeks, a senior at Glades Day School, will be entering the show with her prize four-year-old mare, Not Mike's. She said she has been a member of the AJQHA for seven years but this is the first year "I've been showing full-time."

She said that by full-time she meant showing Not Mike's just about every weekend. Miss Weeks' mother said, however, her daughter has been involved in showing horses for the full seven years she's been a member of the association and Not Mike's is the third horse she's owned and shown.

Miss Weeks said she bought the mare from Gene Jackson, a Belle Glade man who has raised Quarter Horses in the past, when she was a weanling.

The event Miss Weeks will be entering with Not Mike's involves a number of intricate maneuvers she said is designed to show the skill of the horse at taking commands and said a

Solid waste officials get in first argument

BELLE GLADE—Members of the Solid Waste Authority Budget and Policy Committee for the proposed Glades disposal facility became embroiled in their first real dispute Monday night since the committee was formed.

The misunderstanding, which is still being worked out, came up over the formula which will be used to compensate Pahokee for the added distance that city must haul its garbage and trash to the Belle Glade site.

Pahokee representative Billy McKinstry said the Pahokee City Councilmen have already made the decision they would not get involved in the project unless the city receives some compensation for the extra mileage.

"Belle Glade is going to wear out trucks too," said Farmer, who represents Belle Glade's commission, "and we can't afford to carry the load for Pahokee."

Solid Waste Director Tom Hunt said that both Pahokee and South Bay are located further from the facility than Belle Glade and should any compensation be allowed for those two cities, Belle Glade will have to be the one to make up the difference.

Bill Bailey, who represents Palm Beach County on the committee, suggested Hunt find just what the cost will be for each city to transport trash and garbage to the site, divide the sum of those figures by three and let that be the amount.

Farmer said he would have to carry the proposal to the Belle Glade City Commission to get the official response.

Hunt pointed out that the authority now has a good chance of getting partial funding from the U.S. Farm Home Administration but every delay increases the chance another agency may get to that money first.

He also pointed out that only about half the project will be funded by FmHA because about half the population to be served by the facility lives inside Belle Glade, and FmHA would not provide any funding for Belle Glade because the population is more than 10,000.

McKinstry hinted that Belle Glade needs Pahokee in the project more than Pahokee needs Belle Glade. The Pahokee councilman said that if Pahokee doesn't get the concession it's looking for, it may attempt to get its own grant and build its own landfill.

Pahokee now uses the county landfill, along with South Bay, for Four qualify for election

Belle Glade—A furious flurry of political activity put four candidates in the September 13 City Commission election campaign before noon on the first day of qualifying for the three available borough seats in the 1977 political year.

Retiring Sheriff's Office Detective Capt. Claude Tindall wasted no time in challenging North Borough incumbent Aubrey Farmer when he appeared at 8 a.m. Friday, to qualify in the office of City Clerk June Boglioli.

Within 15 minutes, local businessman Earl Meredith qualified to run in the East Borough and before noon incumbent commissioners Aubrey Farmer and William Grear had qualified to run for re-election to their North Borough and West Borough seats.

Tindall, while not a political novice, has never run for office before. He is due to retire on July 31 from the position he has held for more than 11 years as head of the Glades sub-station of the Palm Beach County Sheriff's Office.

Tindall said he has been asked by a number of Belle Glade citizens to run for the city commission seat over the past couple of months and, "if I'm elected, I'll continue to serve the people in the same way I have for over 11 years. I don't intend to change my way of life."

Tindall is a veteran of 30 years experience in law enforcement and the son of a 44 year law enforcement man who at one time was sheriff of Osceola County.

He is the recipient of a number of law enforcement awards, including, in May, the Liberty Bell Award presented by the Palm Beach County Bar Association and in 1955, one of the two outstanding law enforcement officers in the state chosen by the Florida Peace Officers Association.

He may be unique among state peace officers in that during his 30 years in law enforcement and as a range rider for the Florida Livestock Sanitary Board, he has probably investigated more cattle rustling cases than any officer in the state's history and has never lost a case in court or had a conviction overturned on appeal.

Another accomplishment Tindall laughed about Friday when he was qualifying to run for city commissioner is that he was the first Democrat in Florida to lose an election to a Republican contender for sheriff, losing by fewer than 90 votes in the 1966 Broward County election. He ran one more time but was defeated

Firemen get first crack at unionization

BELLE GLADE—With the political season in full swing, city firemen will have their own election during the first two weeks of August to determine whether they want to be represented by a labor union, something requested two years ago but denied by the city commission.

Only 11 firemen will be allowed to determine whether unions will get a foothold among city employees.

The ballots, a simple yes or no affair to the question, "Do you wish to be recognized for purposes of collective bargaining by International Association of Firefighters, Local 2476" will be mailed July 30 by the Florida Public Employees Relations Commission.

The 11 men, every full time employee in the Belle Glade Fire Department except Chief Alfred E. "Pete" Webb and secretary Karen Hansford will be mailed the ballots, which must be returned to PPRC officials in Tallahassee by Aug. 12.

City Manager Robert Sanders said he had been informed the ballots will be counted on Aug. 15 and the city notified of the results no later than the following morning.

The local firefighter's union was formed in November 1975, with Warren Street being elected president. The local firefighters immediately petitioned the city commission to approve Local 2476 as sole representative but the commission decided to send the matter through channels, hiring the labor law firm of Alley and Alley.

Sanders said last week the city would have preferred to have the election held at one place rather than have the ballots mailed to the 11 voters.

Street said in May 1976 he had the names of seven of the ten firemen at that time who favored representation by the union but Friday said he could only wait and see what the results would be after the election.

Under state law, the firefighters, and any other public employees, have the right to self organization, to form, join or assist labor organizations, to bargain collectively through representatives of their choosing, to act together for the purposes of collective bargaining or other mutual aid or protection and to refrain from any and all such activities.

Two die in DC-3 crash

SHERIDAN, WYO.—Two men were killed early Monday morning when a DC-3 twin-engine aircraft they were flying for Ag-Air of Belle Glade crashed in Red Canyon 13 miles from here.

Mrs. Howard Barker, whose husband owns the company, said in a phone call Wednesday morning the two men who died were the pilot, David Frazier, 57, of Fort Myers and the co-pilot, Andy Domarad, 45 of West Palm Beach.

Mrs. Barker said her husband was on the same job, spraying 67,000 acres of rangeland for grasshoppers. Baker's DC-3, normally parked at the Palm Beach County Airport in Pahokee, was about a half a mile ahead of Frazier's aircraft.

"Howard said that they were on the first pass of the day," Mrs. Barker said, "and when he went into his turn, he hit a pocket of dead air (dead air provides no lift) and his plane's airspeed fell off."

A government observer in another plane said Howard was half way through his turn when Dave started into his turn and apparently hit the same thing and stalled out," she said.

Intense heat from a fire touched off by the crash of the large aircraft prevented authorities from reaching the site until Tuesday evening, Mrs. Barker said.

Mike Harkins, Sheridan County undersheriff, said the plan was "burned to ash" except for a tail section, a portion of the wing and the engines.

After the crash, there was concern that the 500 gallons of chemical dumped by the plane might contaminate Sheridan's water supply. The accident occurred about 1.5 miles uphill from one of two river intakes for water.

A federal Aviation Administration investigator, Bob Glascock, arrived and said his work probably would be completed today. Glascock said it would take three to

SEE Crash P7

CAPTAIN CLAUDE TINDALL drew first blood when he became the first candidate to qualify for the Sept. 13 Belle Glade city election. The veteran law enforcement officer will run against incumbent Aubrey Farmer for the North Borough seat.

AUBREY FARMER qualified Friday to run for re-election to his North Borough City Commission seat...and seems to be telling City Clerk June Boglioli he's number one.

The power went out in Belle Glade Friday... and we immediately dispatched reporters out to interview tourists trapped in elevators, just like New York.

However, unlike our journalistic counterparts at the New York Times, we were unable to find any tourists caught in elevators. Matter of fact, we had a truly tough time finding elevators.

And there was not a looter in sight.

New York's troubles are legion... not enough money, too many people, garbage in the streets, dope, strikes, and so on and so forth. Perhaps its greatest problems are the hundreds of thousands who live on society like leeches, not wishing to move to areas in which jobs are available.

When the lights went off last week, things got even worse. Looters smashed windows and drove small businesses to bankruptcy. Over 3,000 were arrested. Policemen and firemen were injured trying to do their jobs. Our most "civilized" society degenerated to near anarchy in certain areas.

The Mayor has called for "maximum punishment" for those who were arrested. If you don't know, the "eastern liberal establishment" that calls New York home base believes "maximum punishment" to be a stint with a social worker and a sentence that has been probated.

Andy Young told us the problem is the "the people are hungry." Which will mean more calls for government help for the oppressed. Why is it the majority of the oppressed never try to help themselves?

My personal wars with the internal combustion engine have been told and re-told throughout the Glades. I can get into a car and it immediately refuses to run. Put me at the tiller of an outboard and it quits. Give me five minutes with a power mower and the spark plug falls out.

I sometimes long for the horse and buggy, but with my luck, the axle would break and the animal founder.

But I do have one engine that has always treated me well, my 90-horse Continental airboat power plant.

If should have. Have you checked the prices of parts for one of those monsters lately?

The engine was running fine when the prop tip came off. Went right through the boat's cage. While the wife was on the boat for a joyride. And another airboat had to tow us back in. Have you ever ridden six miles behind an airboat? It's amazing what can be blown your way.

Since the prop has to be rebuilt, we decided it would be a good time to take the engine apart and replace some of the parts that surely had a lot of frog legs to pay for the damage. If I can ever figure out how to put that "used to be sweet running" engine back together again.

So I'm in hock again. And it's gonna take a lot of frog legs to pay for the damage. If I can ever figure out how to put that "used to be sweet running" engine back together again.

The politics have begun in Belle Glade and South Bay with at least five candidates qualifying in the two towns for city office.

We hope more candidates will come forward, voice their views clearly, and give the voters a concrete choice. And we hope the voters will exercise their privilege and work and vote for those they feel can do the best job.

Our sincere best wishes go out to all the candidates and prospective candidates.

I HEAR THEY WERE TRAPPED ON A SKYSCRAPER DURING THE BLACKOUT...

To swim or not to swim...

When is a swimming pool not a swimming pool? (Check one)

- A) When it hasn't been used for five years because the owner fails to correct a drainage problem.
- B) When the landowner decides to buy up the last 79 years of a 99 year lease to fill it in and build a clubhouse.
- C) When it's being used as a breeding ground for piranha.
- D) When it's a rose garden.
- E) All of the above.

If you picked all of the above, you'd be correct. If you chose A and B, that's what has been the case and what may be the case, and if you picked D, well, that's what one member of the city commission would like to be the case.

Because, after three years, there's another move afoot to revert the municipal swimming pool back to the Lions Club. That's the pool that hasn't been used for five years because of a drainage problem.

That problem won't be repaired without some cost; maybe a lot of cost and it may never be repaired if the Lions go through with the exercise of their option.

The city has been moving on the problem for several weeks now and City Manager Robert Sanders said last week he was waiting for the city's engineers to complete their study on what it would take to put the pool back into A-1 shape.

But the report will be meaningless if the city agrees in a workshop session tonight to go along with the Lions, or if the Lions go ahead with their plan.

As a matter of fact, since the city hasn't kept up the swimming pool, one section of the agreement would apparently allow the Lions to reclaim the land the swimming pool lies on without paying the city a dime.

Some rebate!

Police all over the state are making sounds as though they'll no longer enforce traffic laws except in extreme cases but how many motorists can afford to take that chance when a ticket for going 56 miles an hour on the open highway can mean the loss of half a person's paycheck?

And for what?

For a rebate (if you've been a good little boy or girl) which just might be enough to buy a carton of cigarettes as the new inflated price caused by the new inflationary taxes. Forget a bottle of booze, though. That's been priced out of reach of the rebate.

It will, of course, provide employment for the bureaucrats who'll have to be hired as Santa's helpers to determine who's been naughty and nice and to make out the $8 paychecks to those who qualify under the "nice" category.

Of course the nice drivers could save their rebates for eight years and they'll have almost enough to pay for one traffic ticket if they slip once.

Unless the ante goes up in the meantime...and who ever heard of the state's ante going down?

But if the city had maintained the pool, there is a possibility the Lions wouldn't even have attempted to buy back the lease in the first place.

And regardless of what it cost, even if it cost the $60,000 which was the highest estimate the city received for the repairs back in 1974, the city was supposed to have obligated the franchise tax fund for maintenance and upkeep of the Municipal and Lake Shore pools.

The money was there but for whatever reasons the commissioners individually and collectively may have had over the past five years, the will to use it wasn't there.

And the result will apparently be only one city-owned pool available to the public (after repairs on the Lake Shore pool are completed) instead of two.

No thanks!

Before the voters in Belle Glade have a chance to make the often difficult decision on Sept. 8 about who they want to represent them on the city commission, a smaller group will have to make what may be an even harder decision.

The 11 eligible men employed by the city on the Belle Glade Fire Department will have to decide whether they want a union, the first ever in the city, to represent them in their collective bargaining with the city.

The ballots which will decide the fate of Local 2476 of the International Association of Firefighters will be decided during the first 12 days of August when the 11 eligible voters return their mailed ballots to PERC in Tallahassee.

How those ballots, which will be mailed to the prospective union members on July 30, will be filled out has almost certainly become the hottest topic of discussion among the firefighters during the past few days and weeks.

And the results of their decision must already be weighing on these firefighters' minds.

Such as the policy three years ago which prohibited a group of firemen from approaching the city commission to air grievances and the fact that policy has been repudiated by all five members of the city commission.

Such as the statements by at least three of the commissioners that they would certainly take a harder line on any talks with a union representative over real or fancied grievances than they would with the firefighters themselves.

The firefighters and all other full-time city employees have the perfect right to organize unions for collective bargaining with the city. We have our doubts about the wisdom of that legality but even if the right isn't legitimate, it is legal.

The fear that once the union is entrenched, other employee unions become a strong probability and essential municipal function breakdowns could become a reality down the road, has been derided.

But the fact remains that traditionally, the first collective bargaining agent recognized at any city level represents the firemen of that city.

And the fact remains that essential municipal services have been withheld from the public and cities such as New York, San Francisco, Detroit and Chicago have been all but crippled by public employee union strikes.

And for those people who think, "Belle Glade is different; it couldn't happen here," don't bet on it.

Belle Glade is different. It's different from New York mainly because of the difference in size and population. But with the commissioners already stating they would take a harder line with union negotiators, that difference could become minimized in a hurry.

In a town where every commissioner probably knows personally at least most of the employees, it makes little sense to hire professional go-betweens at high prices to communicate between the two groups.

CRACKER CRUMBS

BY DEAN JONES

It wasn't what you'd call your greatest week ever for Mississippians in the Glades.

Like Biff, who went over to LaBelle last Sunday to pick up a pickup. Supposed to have been a great buy. At least that's what he told me Friday before going over to pick it up.

Course that was before the engine blew up on him on the way back to Belle Glade.

Or like the Mississippi Home-wrecker (sounds like a professional wrestler don't it?) who'd been in Florida all of two weeks when she decided that with the day off and not knowing anyone to speak of, she'd go to the beach.

That was her first mistake. Not going to the beach but going to the beach without a chaperon. All kinds of things can happen when a lady does that...like winding up on Air Force Beach with an all-over blush.

Her second mistake was believing the guy who stopped to chat with her over a beer when he said he was divorced.

The third was giving him her name and phone number.

And the fourth was answering the phone when it woke her up Sunday (yup, the same day) to find some female on the other end informing her she was going to be named in a divorce suit...with the fella who was (you guessed it) already divorced.

I always have maintained that luck is a funny thing. Course a lot of people don't believe in luck. Brother Dave says it's like accidents. It's premeditated carelessness.

On t'other hand, how do you explain the guy over in West Palm who went fishing over the weekend and came back to find someone had made him the Christmas-in-July gesture of giving his office parking lot a free paving job?..

Now, I never have believed in Lady Luck. Personally, I think the old woman's name is Madame Fortune. I mean, I never seemed like a lady at all to me. More like someone you'd expect to find running a house of ill repute.

Cause like the guys on Hee Haw point out, if it weren't for bad luck, sometimes I don't think I'd have any luck at all.

It's better than calling it fate or karma cause they're just two more names for luck...and they ain't all that hot either. I never did believe in predestination but there've been times I coulda been convinced.

Like the time I was a kid and wanted to go bike riding with some buddies; only when I waltzed outside and found myself on the two-wheeler, it had a flat tire.

So I took it down and blew it up...literally. Ever put enough air in a bike tire so it blows up in your face? Better than the Fourth of July.

You'd think I'd have gotten the message but some people are dense. After two attempts to get a lift over to the friend's house didn't work, I finally rode shank's mare. Heck, I knew he had an extra pair of wheels.

What I didn't know was just because I insisted and didn't pay any attention to all those warnings, we hadn't been riding more than an hour or so when I managed to stop the bike and keep on going myself and wind up with an arm no longer in one piece.

Buck the system and you're riding for a fall. Nowadays, I think if the same thing happened, I'd stay at home when I first found the flat tire. But that's after a lot of water has gone over the dam and a lot of lumps on my sore head.

I guess they'd go for something, though, those lumps. When The Man say, "You gonna fall," he don't have to say it twice. I'll just lay down on the floor and wait.

Like the old saying, it's sorta hard to fall from there.

And that's probably just about the time you hear the big, hollow voice saying, "You didn't get it right, dummy. I said, 'something's gonna fall on you.'"

Spliat!

Wish I'd said that

"It's been suggested," according to Rep. Gene Taylor (D-Mo.), "we turn all solid waste materials over to the Postal Service...they'll lose it and we won't have a problem."

Big Bass Seminar is set

ORLANDO—It's difficult to talk about bass fishing without discussing Billy Westmorland.

He's one of the few anglers who can brag about landing both bigmouth and smallmouth bass weighing more than ten pounds.

While not a bragging sort of guy, Billy also established an enviable record when he was named top angler of the Florida Invitational BASS Tournament on the St. Johns River in 1974 and 1975.

The veteran bass angler from Celina, Tennessee, is one of seven top flight professional tournament fishermen scheduled to appear at the Big Bass Seminar in Orlando on December 2-4.

The former Tennessee fishing guide will discuss the glories as well as the trials and tribulations of a professional bass angler. "It's not all fun and games," Westmorland said, "and if I could compile all the highlights and heartbreaks of professional bass fishing, I could write another book."

Westmorland's first book, "Them Ol' Brown Fish," is a complete guide to smallmouth bass fishing and viewed by serious bass anglers as a vital link in their bass fishing education.

Joining Westmorland at the Big Bass Seminar will be Bill Dance, Tom Mann, Forrest Wood, Jim Rogers, Johnny Morris and Jack Hains. The seven professionals will be complemented by seven Florida bass biologists. While the tournament anglers talk about fishing, the biologists will address various subjects relating to the research, management and future of Florida's black bass.

The Big Bass Seminar is being coordinated by the Game and Fresh Water Fish Commission with the active cooperation and sponsorship of the Florida Federation of B.A.S.S. Chapters, the American Bass Fisherman, the National Bass Association, the United Bass Fishermen and the Poor Boy Bass Association.

According to Jim Floyd, seminar coordinator for the Commission, the program will feature a Big Bass Exhibit Center with displays of everything that's new for the bass fisherman and include special programs by the famous "Gadabout" Gaddis and Florida's own Fishing Hall of Fame notable Roy Martin.

"The ultimate goal of the seminar," Floyd said, "is to focus attention on Florida's bigmouth bass and bass fishermen. The black bass is America's number one game fish and Florida is the number one bass fishing state. Westmorland's record smallmouth bass was caught in Tennessee but his best bigmouth is a 12 pound Florida bass."

The seminar coordinator continued, "Hopefully, the seminar will establish a cooperative concept for the future of bass fishing. We feel that when bass anglers and bass biologists get together and exchange ideas, something good is bound to happen."

Information and reservations for the Big Bass Seminar may be obtained by writing Big Bass Seminar, P.O. Box 15662, Orlando, Florida 32808.

Farm Safety Week starts

The week of July 21-31 has been designated National Farm Safety Week by President Jimmy Carter, who urges all the nation's people who live and work on farms and ranches to commit themselves to safe conduct in all activities. "Not only all people in cities and towns, but millions of others around the world depend on the food and fiber produced in America's farms," said the President in a recent proclamation.

"With the new awareness of the importance of farm safety, we can insure that the equipment and chemicals used on the farm are safe for both farmer and consumer."

CHICKEN 'N SWISS EXTRAORDINAIRE

3 whole fryer chicken breasts, halved, skinned & boned
1 tsp. Accent flavor enhancer
1/2 cup flour
1/4 cup Mazola corn oil
6 thick slices French bread

6 slices Swiss cheese
1 Tbs. butter
3/4 cup white wine
1 tsp. salt
1/4 tsp. pepper
1 can sliced mushrooms

Sprinkle chicken with flavor enhancer. Roll in flour. Heat corn oil in frying pan over medium heat. Add chicken and brown on all sides. Reduce heat; cover tightly and cook about 10 minutes or until fork can be inserted with ease. Place bread topped with cheese slices on baking sheet. Heat in 200 degree oven while preparing mushrooms. Remove chicken from pan. Add butter to pan; add mushrooms and saute over low heat for about 3 minutes. Push mushrooms aside, add a little flour to butter and stir to loosen browned bits. Add wine. Add salt and pepper. Return chicken to pan and simmer until sauce is slightly thickened. Place chicken piece on top of each bread slice and spoon mushrooms and sauce over chicken. Serves 6.

Gold Coast Gardener

By Gene Joyner Palm Beach County Urban Horticulturist

Many of our residents who are not spending as much time working in their landscapes because of our nice summer weather have found that there are problems developing in their lawn grasses which, if untreated, could lead to an expensive replacement job.

With our high temperatures and high humidity, coupled with most people's tendency to over water, fungus is becoming evident in many area lawns. There are a number of types of fungus and the most common one is called brown patch.

This starts as a round or circular area in the grass and if the environmental conditions are favorable they will spread or increase very rapidly. This particular disease kills not only the leaf blade and stem but also the roots so that the area that is affected dies out completely and this means you will have to put new grass back into that area after you have controlled the disease. Letting this problem exist and not treating it is asking for a large portion of your lawn to be destroyed.

The second type of disease which is prevalent right now is called gray leaf spot. This disease appears as a brown spotting on the leaf blade and very rarely kills the grass, only making it look unsightly. Many times this is found in combination with brown patch fungus.

Both these types of disease can be controlled with various types of fungicides for lawns available at your local garden supply stores.

Many times after a period of cloudy weather with frequent showers, you may notice small grayish or black mold growing on the leaf blades. This slime mold does not injure grass and usually once the sun has come out this will dry up and disappear. You can also wash it off with the garden hose or sprinklers and in no way injures your grass but only makes it look unsightly. When you are having fungus problems one of the first things you should do is accurately determine that it is a fungus. Then make sure that you begin treatments as quickly as possible.

"Ferret Fawcett" makes unusual pet

PAHOKEE—Wade and Jason Wagnon, sons of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Wagnon of Pahokee, have joined in the wave of Farrah Fawcett enthusiasts by naming their new pet ferret, Ferret Fawcett or "F.F." for short, five year old Jason said.

Their unusual pet is about a foot long and weighs less than a pound. Wade and Jason's mother, Mrs. Shirley Wagnon, said the animal will reach a length of two feet at the maximum, measured from nose to tail. He was eight weeks old Sunday and has been with the Wagnons for about two weeks. They bought him at a pet store in West Palm Beach.

The ferret, Mrs. Wagnon explained, is a member of the weasel, otter and mink family and is raised in Colorado. They can be trained for rabbit and mouse hunting and were raised for that FEROCIOUS FERRET? No way, not this calm, relaxed, friendly ferret. He'd rather lounge around on the desk top than make an effort to move.

Two attend Merle Norman college

Virginia Anderson and Pat Angel of the Merle Norman Cosmetics Shop in the Town & Country Store attended the College of Make-up Artistry July 14th and 15th.

The course was given at the Omni International Hotel in Miami, and was taught by Marti Robinson, a one time Miss California. She is now the Director of Consumer Information for Merle Norman Cosmetics and an instructor at the college.

The course involved the introduction of new Merle Norman products and how to apply them. Also, beauty hints and know-how tips were given.

The college is one of the many advantages open only to Merle Norman Cosmetic Demonstrative Specialists.

Rodgers celebrate 60th anniversary

CANAL POINT—Mr. and Mrs. H.G. Rodgers of 206 First St., Canal Point, will have been married 60 years on July 29th. Their three children are helping them celebrate their anniversary with a gathering at the Fellowship Hall of the First Missionary Baptist Church of Canal Point on Sunday, July 24.

The Rodgers', both from Alabama, were married on July 29, 1917. They moved to Canal Point, on October 16, 1938, lived in Bryant for 21 years and then moved back to Canal Point.

Mr. Rodgers retired from the U.S. Sugar Corporation in 1967 as plantation supervisor, having worked there for 26 years and eight months.

The Rodgers' have three children, Mary Moore of Canal Point, James Edward Rodgers of Pahokee, two grandchildren; James Edward Rodgers, Jr., and Pat Moore, and two great grandchildren, James Edward Rodgers III and Henry Moore.

All friends of the couple are invited to attend the celebration at the church fellowship hall.

Marathon rock-a-thon nets money for church

PAHOKEE—Earlier this year in the month of March, the youth of the Pahokee Church of God organized a Rock-A-Thon to raise money for a missions project. This was a conjunctive effort involving all the denomination's youth. Most of the youth of the Pahokee Church went out and obtained pledges of money for each hour.

The youth set a goal of $1,000 to be given to the project. The goal for the entire state was $40,000. After rocking in rocking chairs for twelve consecutive hours, the pledge cards were brought together. After all the money was turned in, it was discovered that the goal had been exceeded.

To add to the excitement, the church was recognized at the annual camp meeting at Wi-uma. On Saturday, July 2, at the camp meeting, Pastor McGlamery learned that the youth of his church had raised more money than any other church in its membership category. For this outstanding achievement, the church was awarded a beautiful commemorative plaque, and Pastor McGlamery was given a free trip to Haiti to inspect the missions work there.

The Pahokee Church of God expresses its thanks to the people of the community who helped make this project a success. The people of South Korea will be blessed with the construction of a new Bible School near Seoul. In addition to that fine effort, the district, including the Pahokee Church of God, raised more money than any other district in Florida. For the people of Pahokee's involvement and concern THANKS AGAIN! from the Pahokee Church of God.

Miss Medina weds Mr. Hernandez

BELLE GLADE—On Friday, July 15, 8 p.m. at the Philips Beniz Catholic Church, during the double ring ceremony with the Reverend Paul Shaggy officiating, Miss Telva Medina and Mr. Alfredo Hernandez were joined matrimony. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wilfredo Medina of Belle Glade. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Andres Hernandez also from Belle Glade.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore white floor gown, with long sleeves and round neck. The dress was decorated with daisies and miniature pearls. Her veil made the train, and it was gathered at the top of her head with an imitation pearl tiara.

Serving as the maid of honor was the bride twin sister, Miss Teresa Medina, and she wore a pink gown. She also wore a shawl on her head of the same material as the dress. She carried a red and pink carnation bouquet.

The bridal party consisted of Miss Elizabeth Fernandez, Miss Luisa Camero, Miss Lucia Molina, Miss Mirtha Hernandez and the junior bridesmaid was Zola Marina Ruiz. They all wore floor length red gowns with shawls on their heads, and carried pink and red carnation bouquets. The ring bearer was Eduardo Manilla and the flower girl was Rosa Maria Hernandez. The little girl wore a pink gown and was carrying the traditional basket of flowers.

The wedding march was played on the organ by Mrs. Miller. The church was decorated with bouquets of white carnation babies' breath and daisies.

The mother of the bride wore a blue-gray gown with a white orchid corsage. The mother of the groom wore a watermelon color dress, also with a white orchid corsage.

The reception immediately followed the religious ceremony, and it took place at the home of the bride at 908 N. Main St. in Belle Glade.

The refreshments were served by the mother of the bride and her sister. The main table was decorated with the wedding cake and the bouquet of white carnation.

After they thanked all the guests, the couple changed to their traveling clothes, the bride wore a red pant suit and the groom wore a grey sports suit, and they left for their honeymoon trip to begin at Miami Beach and then travel thru all the Northeastern States.

On their return they will reside at 217 S.W. Ave D in Belle Glade.

Mr. and Mrs. Hatch return from Trinidad

PAHOKEE—Mr. and Mrs. John Hatch and granddaughter, Christine Brady, returned to their home in Pahokee, Friday, July 15 after spending a three week vacation with relatives and friends in Trinidad B.W.I.

Their first stop was to visit with Mrs. Hatch's brother, Clive, Sr. in his home in San Fernando. They visited with a cousin and his family, the Gordon Farrell's family in their home at St. Clair, Port of Spain. The Hatch's also visited with their long time friends, Mr. and Mrs. Allan Lumsden at their farm in the Santa Cruz Valley.

Several parties were given in the Hatch's honor. They enjoyed meeting friends that they had not seen in over 15 years. Among some of the friends they met up with again were Mr. and Mrs. Roi Dopsom, whom Mrs. Hatch knew when she was in high school.

Mrs. Hatch commented that it was a most enjoyable holiday in the country of her birth.

Long-time resident moves to Illinois

PAHOKEE—Mrs. J.C. Mock, resident of Pahokee for 48 years, will be moving to West Frankfort, Illinois next week to be near her daughter.

"I have to leave all of my friends here," she said, but due to ill health she said it was to be near her daughter, Mrs. R.L. Odum.

Mrs. Odum is a registered nurse as is her daughter. Mrs. Mock worked for one year as a paractical nurse in the first hospital in Pahokee.

Besides her daughter, Mrs. Mock, a widow, has a son who lives in Orlando and four grandchildren who live in Illinois.

She has been a member of the First Baptist Church of Pahokee for 48 years and is active in the Fay Taylor Mission Circle, the F.A.F.F. Club and the "Happy Friends" Club.

Mrs. Mock said she regrets leaving the sunny weather of Florida but she has a nice apartment to move into in Illinois.

Birthday is celebrated

PAHOKEE—Wade Wagnon, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Wagnon of Pahokee celebrated his tenth birthday on Monday, July 18. Twelve friends joined Wade at the Canal Point Community Center where they enjoyed music and games of bingo with prizes awarded to the winners.

The cake decorated with records and small toy saxophones carried out the musical theme of the party. Cake and punch were served to the guests.

Methodists to have guest speaker

PAHOKEE—During the regular morning worship service at the Canal Point United Methodist Church this Sunday, Lay-reader Dale Milita will be the speaker. At the 7 pm services Rev. John T. Adams, Jr., director of development of the Florida United Methodist Children's Home located in Enterprise, will present slides and films of the work that is carried out in the Children's Home.

Guest speakers have been scheduled at the church during the vacation of the pastor, Dan Casselberry, until his return in early August.

IN MEMORY

PAHOKEE—In loving memory of my dear husband, J. Crawford Mock who left me three years ago, August 3, 1974.

There is someone who misses you sadly and finds the time so long since you went.

There is someone who thinks of you always, and tries to be brave and content. Memories are treasures no one can steal.

Death is a heart break that nothing can heal. Some may forget you now that you're gone, but I will remember you always.

Sadly missed by wife, Mamie T. Mock and so far the only, agency to sign the contract with the Solid Waste Authority to become involved in the contract.

Pahokee, as had been discussed, is ready to sign the contract if the mileage compensation provision is included. Belle Glade, Hunt said he was informed in May, is ready to sign its contract with the inclusion of a provision to allow the city to buy out of it at any time during the life of the contract.

Hunt said that provision was to have been written by Belle Glade City Attorney John Baker but he still hasn't heard anything from Baker about it.

There seemed to be some confusion about the status of Palm Beach County's contract, however. Hunt said he had been informed there was only some financial considerations to be made by the county and that County representative Bill Bailey was to give approval on that question.

Bailey said he wasn't aware he was to make any such decision.

typical one is maneuvering her mount through a line of cones.

"Western riding," she said, "includes a number of things that aren't easy for a horse to master." Showmanship, on the other hand, involves showing off the horse's finer points while dismounted, with such fine points as the length of the horse's whiskers being considered.

Helping build her points which gave her the opportunity to compete in the world championship show, Miss Weeks won the Western Riding Championship three weeks ago in the Firecracker Circuit of Florida at Sun-City near Tampa.

She also won the championship at the Atlantic Coast Regional Paint Horse Association in Davie, bringing home 20 silver trays, cups and bowls from just that single show.

Miss Weeks will be leaving July 29 to drive Nor Mike's out to Tulsa, picking up a friend in Gainesville to help make the trip. Mrs. Weeks said she would join her daughter in Tulsa later, after flying out.

The AJQHA Annual Convention will also be held in conjunction with the show, with delegates meeting in various committee sessions to conduct the business of the largest youth horse organization in the world. New officers will also be elected. Currently, more than 5,900 young people are members of the association.

As it now stands, more than 800 registered American Quarter Horses will be converging in Tulsa for the five-day event. With record numbers of youth, horses, sponsors and parents, this year's convention and World Championship Show promises to be the largest in the history of the AJQHA.

And it could be the year a pair of young ladies from Belle Glade team up to bring back some major silver.

four months to officially determine what happened.

But, according to Don Dais, assistant state agriculture commissioner, the plane "made one pass this morning to spray and was trying to make a turn to make another pass. They got into Big Goose Canyon and apparently ran out of room and air and hit and mountain.

The impact and resulting fire touched off a two-acre blaze and the heat stopped the authorities from getting close to the plane.

"Dave was a former military pilot," Mrs. Barker said, "and he probably flew more years than I've been alive. Howard said that normally, there would have been no problem. It was just a freak."

Mrs. Barker said survivors included a wife and two grown daughters for Frazier while Donrad is survived by his wife, Jeannie an employee of Osceola Farms, and two children from an earlier marriage.

Sugar plan said illegal

U.S. Comptroller General Elmer B. Staats said yesterday he has "substantial doubt" that the Carter administration's proposed payments to sugar producers would be legal.

Direct payments to farmers are illegal unless they are designed to support or increase the price of the crop, and Staats said that the program appears to be an attempt to get around the law.

We fail to see how the payments contemplated under the program would support the market price of sugar," the head of Congress' General Accounting Office (GAO) said in a seven-page legal analysis sent to Rep. Paul Findley (R-Ill.).

As proposed, USDA would make payments on the 1977 crops of sugarbeets and cane of up to 2 cents per pound of raw sugar produced if the average market price for the year were below 13.5 cents. The price is now below 10 cents a pound.

Even though the proposed program sets 13.5 cents as a "designated support price," if the average market price turned out to be only 11 cents a pound, the producers would get only 13 cents a pound, minus the producers' handling costs.

"It is indeed difficult to distinguish the effect of the proposed program from that of a program of direct producer payments made on the basis of the amount of sugar marketed. Accordingly, the proposed program is not, in our view, authorized under the law, as the department may not indirectly what it cannot do directly," Staats said.

Election

isn't a political newcomer but has never held public office, losing his only political race in an attempt to unseat then-incumbent City Commissioner Bill Bailey in 1973.

Meredith is an outgoing member of the Belle Glade Chamber of Commerce board of directors. He is the son-in-law of Mayor Ralph Kirk.

Meredith's opposition, should he qualify next week as expected, will be incumbent Commissioner Kenneth Harris, who is away at this time on his job in North Carolina.

North Borough incumbent Commissioner Aubrey Farmer was the third person to qualify, about 9:30 a.m. Friday. If elected, Farmer will begin his seventh consecutive two-year term. With 12 years as a commissioner under his belt, he is the senior elected city official.

Farmer has served three one-year terms as mayor during his time on the commission. He is currently serving as a member of the Budget and Policy Committee of the Solid Waste Authority Glades facility project.

He is a foreman with the South Florida Conservancy District.

William Grear, the last candidate to qualify Friday, about 11:50 a.m., is the incumbent West Borough Commissioner. He will be seeking his fifth consecutive two-year term. He has served one one-year term as mayor following his re-election two years ago.

Grear is director of the West Care day care center for children on Southwest Tenth Street. He is a former barber and school teacher and was the first black man ever elected to the city commission. His wife is Dr. Effie Grear, principal of Glades Central High School.

As of Friday, City Clerk June Boglioli said there were 5,083 registered voters in the city. She said those who wish to vote in the city election can register any time through July 30, but if they wish to wait until the last day, they will have to make a trip to West Palm Beach.

Mrs. Boglioli said she was informed by Jackie Winchester, Palm Beach County Supervisor of Elections, that prospective voters can register through July 29 but, while state law provides that when the last day of registration falls on a Saturday, the books must be made available, she will only open the office in the county courthouse in West Palm Beach.

Mrs. Boglioli reminded city residents that they may no longer register to vote at the city hall annex.

City voters will experience a pair of firsts this year, breaking in a new polling place at the city's new fire station in McDonald Park and using the new Vote-A-Matic computerized voting system instead of the traditional machines.

Should any voters wish a preview of the new voting machines, several are available for practice in the area in city banks and at the Chamber of Commerce.

While the registration books close on July 30, prospective city commissioners may qualify as candidates any weekday between 8 a.m. and 5 p.m. in the city clerk's office at the city hall annex in McDonald Park until Aug. 20.

Candidates must file a financial disclosure form with the city clerk before qualifying, be a qualified city elector for the past year and pay a $25 filing fee.

CITY CLERK JUNE BOGLIOLI goes over the rules of reporting campaign contributions Friday with Earl Meredith, who qualified to run for the East Borough Belle Glade City Commission seat in the Sept. 13 election.

PBJC News

By Alice Zacheral

This fall, students accepted at PBJC will be testing themselves. Beginning with 1977 fall term, a new self-administered, self-scored placement test will be used by incoming freshmen that eliminates the 12th grade placement test required in the past.

Under the new program, the students picks up the tests from his high school guidance office, takes them home, completes and returns the entire packet to the Guidance office at the time of registration. If the student is not a graduate of a local high school, he may secure the test packet from the PBJC Registration Office in the Armory Building.

The packet contains three tests: Reading, English and Math. Also included are answer sheets, test evaluation cards and instructions. The student does not pass or fail, rather he assesses his own ability in an effort to select the proper level for enrollment in Math and English courses.

The philosophy of the program is that the student determines his own strengths and weaknesses, not the college. A question often asked is "How do you know the student will not cheat on the tests?" PBJC Testing Director, Donald W. Cook claims that this is not his concern because "he cheats, he is only cheating himself. After all, it is his education. We really want the student to take the responsibility for his education. We hope this attitude will carry over into the classes."

The concept of a self-administered test is not new. Seminole Community College at Sanford, has been using it successfully for three years. Other colleges have expressed interest in this kind of evaluation instrument.

It is, like the 12th grade placement test, only a tool for the counselor and student working together to determine course placement. When a student is deficient in basic math and reading skills he needs to be in a class that will better prepare him for his college work. The new test performs this assessment.

SAVINGS & LOAN ASSOCIATION

LEGISLATIVE

INSIGHT

FROM STATE REPRESENTATIVE
TOM LEWIS DISTRICT 83
TALLAHASSEE, FLORIDA

The session is finally over! Many of us were beginning to have our doubts as to when the Florida Legislature was going to compromise and then what was going to be the end result. During many hours of debate the 1 cent and 1/2 cent sales tax was killed and the compromise was a "Potpourri" of taxes. The total budget of $5.7 billion will be funded with $130 million new taxes to fund a $113 million deficit appropriation. Fortunately, in Florida we cannot appropriate a deficit budget because of constitutional prohibition.

If you do not already know, this is what the tax package looks like: Liquor - Whiskey and wine will go up 27 percent. This will add a penny to a can of beer; 60 cents to a gallon of wine and $1.00 to a gallon of liquor. This one tax will raise $45.9 million.

Cigarettes - Added to the cost of cigarettes will be 4 cents a pack raising $41.6 million.

Phosphate - The Phosphate severance tax was increased from 5 to 10 percent of the mined value raising $15.1 million.

Oil - The Oil severance tax raising $14.1 million will go up from 5 to 8 percent in value.

Persons from out of state purchasing automobiles in Florida will pay the same sales tax of their own state to Florida, raising $2 million.

Presently, the documentary stamp tax is due on the note or certificate of indebtedness. In cases where there is both a note and a mortgage, this bill makes the mortgage the taxable document.

Meadows qualified

SOUTH BAY—Competition was provided Tuesday afternoon in at least one of the two city commission races in the Sept. 6 city election when John Junior Meadows of 255 First Ave. qualified.

Meadows, who qualified in Group One against Thomas Adams, the first candidate to qualify for the 1977 election, is a one-year resident of South Bay but lived in the Glades for a number of years.

He is owner of P and J Paving Co. in Belle Glade and said he has never run for political office before. Adams ran last year against incumbent Mayor Don Tanner in an unsuccessful bid for office his first time out.

ment not the note. Raises $6 million.

The corporate filing fee has been increased from $5 to $10 raising $7 million.

Estimate tax domicile has been strengthened by using the Colorado definition of "domicile" which states that a person must reside in the state of Florida for 12 consecutive months during the last 24 months to be declared a resident of this state. Raising $3 million.

Intangible tax situs - Presently accounts receivable on goods shipped into Florida "Freight on board" are not considered to be in this state. This bill broadens the definition of "in this state" to include FOB shipments and therefore subjects accounts receivable arising from these shipments to the Florida intangible tax, raising $1.3 million.

The Speaker of the House appointed me to serve as a conferee on the joint House and Senate Appropriations Conference Committee. This honor allowed me, with the other conferees (seven Senators and six other House members) the job of working a budget compromise satisfactory to both houses, a compromise that the 160 member Legislature could not do themselves. Well, it took us two "Special Sessions" that included working all day long in meetings and sometimes well into the night, including Saturdays and Sundays. Finally, we resolved our philosophical differences and compromised on a state budget that required an additional 130 million dollars down 200 million from what we started with. I still want to re-emphasize the fact that in my opinion we should have reached this conclusion by June 3. There are still a lot of major issues that should have been acted upon which I am sure the Legislature will address in the opening days of the 1978 session as well as during the interim through committee work.

To date there have been 22 bills vetoed by the Governor. Of those bills, Financial Disclosure has received the most publicity. Though this bill was quite strong the committee on Standards and Conduct complied with the Governor's request on this as well as the Sunshine Amendment however, he still vetoed this legislation.

Among other bills of interest in which the Governor vetoed were: 30 year Teacher's Retirement, disallowing mergers of state university systems without Legislative approval, excluding burial plots and crypts from consideration in determination of eligibility for financial assistance from the Department of HRS and the section of the Appropriations bill that the Governor vetoed was Reimbursement to Holmes County from General Revenue - $13,000 for payment of back pay and legal fees incurred on behalf of Jimmy Dan Josey, a county commissioner suspended by the Governor; 2) $100,000 for planning and implementing the authorized school of Optometry and 3) Labor Law Research from Grants and Donations $47,000.

Another controversial issue passed this session was the Automobile Insurance Law. This bill made substantial changes in the automobile insurance and tort laws in Florida. Effective July 1, a person will no longer be required to carry liability insurance. However, in the case of an accident that you cause, you will be financially responsible and without insurance you could lose everything that you have. Under this new law, you must carry $5,000 Personal Injury Protection (PIP) which is commonly known as "No-Fault Insurance".

Yours for Continuing Better Government.

Sincerely,
Tom Lewis

Health goes mobile

BELLE GLADE—School children who still need to catch up on the immunizations before school begins make up the multiple main target of a mobile unit the Palm Beach County Health Department is sending around the Glades this month and August.

School Nurse Deb Seaborn said the school children aren't the only persons who could benefit from the mobile unit's schedule but they are the main concern of the persons manning the program.

"Our main purpose," Mrs. Seaborn said, "is to get kids caught up on their immunizations before school begins. We will also do blood pressure screening and referral for adults."

The unit's schedule for the two months began July 7 and 8 in South Bay and continued last week in Ocoola Center. This week, (Wednesday and today) the mobile unit will set up shop and be open for business from 10 a.m. to noon and from 1 to 3 p.m. at the loading ramp in downtown Belle Glade.

The unit will be at Gladeview Elementary School in Belle Glade the same hours on Wednesday and in downtown Pahokee on Thursday.

The unit will begin its August operation on Aug. 3 at Padgett Island and in downtown Pahokee on Aug. 4. It will be at Streamline on Aug. 10 and in Fremd Village on Aug. 11.

The summer schedule will wind up back at the loading ramp in downtown Belle Glade on Aug. 17 and 18, maintaining the same hours throughout its stops.

Officers attacked

BELLE GLADE—Two Belle Glade police officers who decided to take a man home instead of charging him with being intoxicated Friday wound up charging him with aggravated assault when he brandished a knife at them at his home.

Sheriff's Deputy Nolan Allen arrested John J. Waldon, 38, of 1720 N.W. Ave. F in Belle Glade with aggravated assault on police officers with a knife.

Patrolmen N.C. Vass and Walter Gemeinhardt picked up Waldon and, instead of charging him with intoxication, said they took Waldon to his home.

They told Allen that when they reached his home, Waldon got out a butcher knife. When they drew their guns and ordered him to drop the knife, they said he refused.

Gemeinhardt ended the episode by using chemical mace on Waldon, according to Allen's report.

Happy Friends get together for fun, quilting

PAHOKEE—A time for women to get together for conversation, companionship and quilting is every Thursday at the Pahokee Woman's Club where the Happy Friends meet.

In a congenial atmosphere with fans cooling the summer heat-filled room, the ladies start quilting from 11 a.m. until 4 or 5 p.m.

Last Thursday, three of the four quilts they were working on could be termed "antique quilts" since the top covering of each was pieced together with scrap material years ago and the women finally decided to bring them out of the closet and put them together for the finished product. And that requires polyester batting and a cloth backing, besides the sewing skills.

Mrs. Beatrice Wilson, delightfully watching the three ladies with needles and thread, said she pieced together the top of that particular quilt 61 years ago, when she was 16 years old.

She lived in Texas during her youth and said her mother used to pick cotton in the fields to use as batting, or stuffing, for the quilts. "My brother and her used to sit out on the back doorstep and pick seeds out of the cotton," she said. For at that time, people didn't just go out and buy blankets when they needed them; they made them.

Mrs. Jeanette Johnson, one of the women working on that quilt, is spending some of her vacation time with the quilters. She said she learned the art at home from her mother, Mrs. Mary Opal Mathis who was sitting across the quilt from her. Mrs. Mathis designed a pictorial quilt of Lake Okechobee and the activities in the area, which was given to the city earlier this year. Mrs. Tina Johnson, also working on the quilt, is Mrs. Jeanette Johnson's mother-in-law so, as Tina said, "you might say this a family quilt."

Mrs. Lola Ryals and Mrs. Ruby Kemp were working on another quilt, one which Mrs. Ryals had pieced together many years ago. And the one Mrs. Jessie Mills was working on had been pieced together over 22 years ago by her mother. The fourth quilt, a Lone Star pattern, deviated from the others, it having been started just recently. It's bright orange, green and yellow colors stood out from the background forming the shape of a star. This one the ladies at the moment called the "Canal Point quilt" since those working on it, Mrs. Maggie Pope, Mrs. Rachel Harrington and Mrs. Bonnie Miller, are all from Canal Point.

Mrs. Ryals said they all go around helping each other on the quilts. "Sometimes you'll see one person, sometimes five on one quilt."

They quilt for their own personal pleasure and also, for others to bring in some money. And with that money, they take trips as a group. Their most recent excursion was to West Palm Beach on a mini bus.

But quilting isn't the only thing the ladies do. Mrs. Miller is quite adept at making macrame crafts. Hanging inside the Woman's Club was a large owl hanging, the owl perched on a thick piece of wood. Mrs. Miller said she gets the wood from around the lake, providing a rustic, natural look. In addition to the owl, she displayed several macrame key chains in the form of owls. Mrs. Miller makes the items for those who request them.

Mrs. Sarah Hendrickson was crocheting a pillow by the window, where the cool breeze blew in. She said she also works with ceramics.

The Happy Friends group was initiated two years ago on the second anniversary of the Woman's Club. Coordinator of the group, from the Woman's Club, is Mrs. Ethel Johnson. The ladies said when the group was organized, no specific activity was planned, but they found a great like for quilting so that is the predominant activity of their weekly meets.

Every fourth Thursday they have a covered dish dinner, but each week they enjoy some type of refreshments, such as cookies and tea.

For ease in handling and for convenience, several men in the community constructed wooden quilting frames for them, which can be lowered for use and raised to the ceiling when not in use.

It requires long hours and tedious work, but the women enjoy what they are doing and the finished products attest to their expertise.

Mrs. Jessie Mills and Mrs. Rachel Harrington devotedly work on the completion of a quilt which Mrs. Mill's mother had pieced together over 22 years ago during a meeting of the Happy Friends at the Pahokee Woman's Club.

Miami Herald upsets Local 2152 in softball action

BY KAREN HANSFORD

The team of Miami Herald rallied for 11 runs in the first two innings and held off Local 2152 for a 13-9 upset over the second place team in Glades Women's softball action last week. The game was the second of a doubleheader played Tuesday, July 12, at the Belle Glade Little League-Jaycee ballpark.

Miami Herald took a four-run lead in the first inning when Michelle Jordan smashed a bases loaded triple down the middle and then scored on Rachel Mills' sacrifice fly.

Barbara Hartzon put one over the left fielder's head for a three base hit, causing Chris Zawadzki to score Local's only run. Hartzon was left on third when Tanya Sellers grounded out to pitcher for the third out.

Taking advantage of errors and a couple of walks, the Miami Herald batters responded with another seven runs in the second inning. Jordan, who went three-for-four, doubled into rightfield for two RBI's.

Donna Garcia of Local 2152 provided a little comedy to the game in the bottom of the fourth when she walloped a ball almost to the left field fence and as she rounded third base, fell and literally crawled back to the bag while the confused fielders fumbled for the ball. She was able to go home on Linda Anderson's single for three runs to Miami Herald's 11.

Local settled down on defense and prevented any further score until the sixth inning, meanwhile pushing another two runs across the plate in the fifth by Chris Zawadzki and Sara Rives. Marie Cranford and Michelle Jordan rounded the bases for Miami Herald in the top of the sixth inning, then the local players had their strongest showing on offense with four runs and no outs. Their luck ran out as the next four batters were up for three outs.

The seventh inning was a standoff between the teams, although Janie Priest knocked a double into centerfield for Miami Herald. The win was Miami Herald's third of the season.

Dixie Fried Chicken ripped Glades Sugar 24-4 in the first game that evening, drawing 20 walks in five innings.

The team jumped off to seven runs in the first inning, helped with a double into left field by Erma Vasquez. Glades Sugar closed the gap a little in the top of the second when Dixie Newsome and Taryn Kent rounded the bases.

The girls held off Dixie Fried's threat of scoring in the bottom of the inning when, with the bases loaded, second baseman Michelle Beasley pulled in Kim Cooper's fly for their third out.

Dixie Fried added 11 runs in the next inning, with nearly every runner scoring, and had runner 3 on second and third with two outs when Rita Schoenfeld filed out to rightfielder Dixie Newsome.

Rhonda Gamble knocked in two runs for Glades Sugar with a double in the top of the fourth, but the team was helpless as the Dixie Fried Chicken girls pushed another run across in the bottom of the inning and added another five runs in the next one before the game was called due to the time limit, giving the team its fourth victory. In last Thursday's games, Local 2152 defeated South Bay Growers and Wallis Pharmacy, coming off its first loss of the season, trouncing Glades Sugar 17-5.

Janet McKinley scored for South Bay Growers to take a one run lead in the first inning, which was short-lived, as Local's offense warmed up its bats for six runs off five hits in the second inning, one ad double by Patty McLeod.

Neither team scored in the third inning, then Local 2152 rallied for three in the next one with Sara Rives, Barbara Morgan and Denise Morgan crossing the plate. Susan Moss scored South Bay's lone run on Cecilia Sullivan's single.

Glenda Norwood whacked a three-base hit in the fifth inning and went home on Loretta Pugh's hit, giving South Bay three runs.

After two outs on caught flies, Local's batters drew six walks for three runs before South Bay pitcher Susan Moss stopped a grounder to retire the side. Wanda McMillan knocked a ball into left field for two bases, causing Cindy Gummers to score Local's final run in the seventh inning.

South Bay Growers threatened in the last inning with six runs, taking advantage of crucial errors before Glenda Norwood grounded out to pitcher for the last out, giving Local 2152 the game, 13-9.

In the second game, Wallis Pharmacy led off with two runs in the first inning, but Glades Sugar came back in the bottom of the inning when Gail Hartwick doubled into left field, knocking in two runs to tie the score.

Wallis broke the game open in the second inning with six runs. Karen Hansford smashed a bases loaded triple into right field and then scored on Doris Velez's hit for four of the runs. The Glades Sugar runners were held to no runs in the next three innings while Wallis tallied up five runs in the third, two in the fourth and two in the fifth inning for a total of 17.

Glades Sugar rallied for three runs in the bottom of the fifth before Taryn Kent took a called third strike for the final out.

Glades Women's Softball League Standings as of 7/18/77: Wallis Pharmacy, seven wins and one loss; Local 2152, five wins and three losses; Dixie Fried Chicken, four wins and four losses; South Bay Growers, four wins and five losses; Miami Herald, three wins and four losses; Glades Sugar, one win and seven losses.

Armed officers will patrol youth camp

WEST PALM BEACH—Wildlife officers have been provided for the Florida Game and Fresh Water Fish Commission's youth camp located in Palm Beach County announced a Commission spokesman.

"In view of the recent camp tragedies, we've started patrolling our youth camps with wildlife officers," explained Lt. Colonel Brantley Goodson, director of the agency's law enforcement division.

In addition to the officers, who are always armed while on duty, security has been beefed up by instituting a staggered sleeping schedule for camp counselors. This insures that several counselors are awake and patrolling the grounds 24 hours a day. Each counselor is equipped with a shrill whistle to be blown in case of an emergency. A resident wildlife officer also lives on the camp grounds.

Also, the Palm Beach County Sheriff's Department has agreed to include the camp as part of their patrol at different times throughout the day and night.

Each cabin at the camp contains a least two counselors who live with the campers 24 hours a day.

"Although these measures may appear extreme," Goodson said, "the Commission intends to take every precaution possible to prevent occurrence such as the tragedy in Oklahoma and the kidnapping in Tampa."

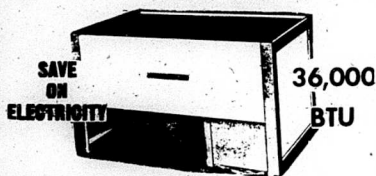

GED offered

The Department of Adult and Community Education announces that the Florida High School Equivalency Diploma Test (G.E.D.) will be given Aug. 2, 3, and 4 at the Adult Education Center, 1235 15th Street, West Palm Beach.

Belle Glade Chamber awards banquet is Oct. 20

BELLE GLADE—The 1977 Chamber of Commerce Annual Awards

Banquet was set, after discussion ranging over the last several months, for Oct. 20 at the Elks Club, with the chamber directors deciding to pay a higher price for enough room to accommodate all the members.

The alternative discussed in the board meeting July 14 was to reserve the Belle Glade Country Club. The Country Club, as pointed out by Banquet Chairman Mary Orsenigo, would cost less than the Elks Club and the Chamber might break even or even make a profit but it would have to restrict ticket sales.

Mrs. Orsenigo said she had received quotes from both the Country Club and the Elks Club, where the last two banquet have been held, and the likelihood the Elks would drop their price was slim.

She and Director Vernon Dexter, who is also on the banquet committee, said the chamber, if it decides to hold the banquet at the country club, would have to live with the fact it wouldn't be able to accommodate the number of members as have attended the past two banquets.

"The choice," Dexter told the directors present for the meeting, "is between charging $10 a plate and having a packed smaller hall and lose about 50 cents per ticket, or lose $5 per ticket and have room at the Elks Club.

"If this is supposed to be made available to every chamber member," Dexter went on, "then let's pay the freight—and not grouse about it."

Chamber President Cecil Conley said that because the banquet is the only function this year where the entire membership will have the opportunity to get together, he would like to see the chamber pick up the rest of the cost.

The chamber has lost money on the banquet the past two years and is expected to lose about another $400 and $600 again this year.

There has been some discussion for the past two years about the possibility of holding an informal barbeque or fish fry at the city marina instead of the formal banquet but that was ruled out earlier.

In other business, Mrs. Orsenigo said she is still working on finding a speaker for the banquet and is getting closer.

The board directors present for the meeting (there wasn't a quorum) were also informed by Conley they now have 11 names in nomination for director seats in the upcoming election.

Executive Director Jewel Crane reminded the directors five persons would have to be elected this year, instead of the usual four, because Ed Duda has resigned in the face of an upcoming move of his family to Oviedo.

Lake depth is just above minimum for navigation

The depth of Lake Okeechobee was only two tenths of a foot above what is considered the minimum depth for normal navigation as of last week and the Corps of Engineers warned the minimum depth may not be maintained if the lake level continues to fall at the present rate.

A depth of eight feet is considered to be the project depth, based on a lake elevation of 12.56 feet above mean sea level. The depth on July 12 was 12.58 feet.

"All navigation passing through the Okeechobee Waterway should exercise caution," said Gail G. Gren, chief of the operations division for the Corps in the state, "and take this anticipated reduced time as the water level of Lake Okeechobee returns to normal."

Sugar price comment deadline is extended

BELLE GLADE—Secretary of Agriculture Bob Bergland announced this week the deadline for submitting comments on the sugar price support payments program has been extended to Aug. 1.

"The notice of proposed rulemaking implementing the sugar program was published on June 14 in the Federal Register with a July 14 deadline," Bergland said. "This date has been extended at the request of industry officials who asked for more time to analyze the proposed regulations."

Consideration will be given to comments on the proposed program submitted in writing to the Chairman, Sugar Task Force, USDA-ASCS, P.O. Box 2415, Washington D.C. 20013, and received not later than Aug. 1.

All written comments will be made available for public inspection at the office of the chairman, Room 3639, USDA's South Building during regular business hours.

Watch out for food poisoning

If you've set your refrigerator above 45°F, served hamburger meat rare or left it at room temperature for more than two hours, you may be playing Russian roulette with your family's health says Palm Beach County Extension Home Economics Agent Arlen C. Jones.

According to the Center for Disease Control, food poisoning cases in the U.S. range from two to 10 million annually. And many of these cases are mistaken for mild flu, says Mrs. Jones.

A nation-wide survey exploring homemakers' knowledge, attitudes and practice of food safety found that two-thirds of American's homemakers follow at least one high-risk practice in handling, preparing or storing meat and poultry.

This means that persons in about two-thirds of the household represented prime candidates for food poisoning reports Mrs. Jones.

Of the 2500 households surveyed, 63 percent left cooked meat, poultry or meat salad sandwiches at room temperatures for more than two hours. Mrs. Jones warns that these warm foods can be a haven for bacterial growth that causes food poisoning.

Thermometers put in refrigerators of the sample households showed a third with refrigerators at 45°F, warmer—a setting not cool enough to check bacterial growth.

Mrs. Jones reports about two-thirds of the homemakers didn't realize that handling raw meat and poultry could contaminate it with germs that cause food poisoning. Many didn't know, for example, that an uncovered cut on their hands could cause food poisoning, especially when handling raw poultry or red meat and then handling other foods.

Three employees of the Glades Correctional Institute recently completed a special course at Ralston. The three were Quentin A. Parrish, Robert J. Spring, and Luis Rosado. The 160-hour course is required for correctional officers and covers many different areas of study and training.

GCI employees graduate

BELLE GLADE—Three G. C. Correctional Institution employees recently completed special training at the Correctional Training Institute in Ralston.

Quentin A. Parrish, Robert J. Spring and Luis Rosado were in the 14th CTI group to enroll in the minimum standards curriculum now required by law for correctional officers.

The Training Institute program is taught in conjunction with Lake City Community College and the graduates earn nine semester credits for successfully completing the full time, 160 hour course.

The program includes instruction in the Criminal Justice System, Legal Aspects of Corrections, Operational Procedures, Principles of Supervision, Human Relations and Technical Training Skills which include firearms, first aid and firefighting techniques.

The Correctional Training Institute was certified by the Florida Correctional Standards Council (CSC) in May 1976 as a training center for correctional personnel.

The council was empowered by the legislature of 1974 to establish minimum standards for the certification of correctional officers and training centers. The curriculum of training is designed to intensify the exposure of the officer and to develop him professionally. It is anticipated the training program will help materialize the promise of a modern correctional system.

The participants will continue their training with an additional 160 hours taught by regional instructors, on an in-service basis, at GCI and other correctional facilities located throughout the state.

Florida farmers are outnumbered 87-1

ORLANDO—There are 87 consumers for every farm owner or worker in Florida according to Agribusiness Institute President Senator Curtis Peterson of Lakeland. "In April, our peak season, we had 97,000 farm owners and workers in Florida. When we look at a state population of 8.5 million, we find that each Florida farmer feeds himself and 87 others."

Peterson's organization, the Agribusiness Institute of Florida, an information and public relations organization serving Florida agriculture, also estimates the state's total agribusiness labor force at 875,000 or 25 percent of Florida's 3.5 million labor force.

"For every farmer," said Peterson, "there are eight other workers who depend on the farmer. He produces food and they do the rest. They haul it, package it, store it, process it, and sell it to consumers."

They depend on the farmer directly for their livelihood but they let him take all the risk. It somehow doesn't seem fair, but that's the way it is."

Florida farmers are concerned about their shrinking numbers. "When elected officials spend more and more time on urban problems, they relegate farm issues to the back seat," said Peterson. "Now is the time when farmers and their problems should take priority...If the farmer goes out of business we're all in trouble."

Garcia completes service training

SAN ANTONIO—Airman Juan Garcia, son of Mr. and Mrs. Juan V. Garcia of 1001 N.E. 24 St. in Belle Glade, has completed Air Force basic training at Lackland AFB, Tex.

During the intensive six weeks of training, the airman earned the honor graduate ribbon for academic and military excellence. Completion of this training earned the individual credits towards an associate in applied science degree through the Community College of the Air Force.

Airman Garcia will now receive specialized training in the avionics systems field at Chanute AFB, Ill. The airman is a 1975 graduate of Newton High School.

Alina Gomez tells of wedding plans

Miss Gomez

BELLE GLADE—Mr. and Mrs. Angel H. Gomez of 317 N.W. Ave. H Place announced this week the engagement of their daughter, Alina Maria Gomez, to Leonardo Navarro, son of Mr. and Mrs. Benigno Navarro of 875 Whitaker Rd.

Miss Gomez is a graduate of Harrison High School in Harrison, N.J., and attended Palm Beach Junior College, where she obtained her AA from the Law Department. She is currently employed as a social writer for The Belle Glade Herald.

The groom-elect is a graduate of Glades Central High School and is now self-employed as the co-owner of the Belle Glade Fina service station.

Plans now call for an 8 p.m. wedding on Nov. 26 at St. Philip Benizi Catholic Church in Belle Glade.

Lake area obituaries

SOUTH BAY—Funeral services for David "Zeki" Partain, 63, a resident of the Glades since he moved here from New Hope, Ga. in 1935, were held Saturday at the South Bay Baptist Church with the Rev. Bill Anderson officiating. Partain was born in Georgia and died July 14 at Glades General Hospital after a short illness. He made the Glades his home for the past 42 years. He worked for the Arthur Wells Farms and Sarales Everglades Farms before joining the Okeelanta Sugar Mill, now Gulf and Western, 25 years ago as a mechanic.

Survivors include his widow, Jewell A. Partain; a son, Dennis Partain of Clewiston; a daughter, Joyce Haynes of North Fort Myers; three brothers, Vester Partain of New Hope, Ga., Dennis Partain of Atlanta, Ga. and Roy Partain of New Hope, Ga. and five grandchildren.

Active pallbearers were Kenneth Warren, Norman Austin, James Rives, Billy Rives, John

Ellison, Hovas Prevatt, Neal Mayo and Hubert Anderson. Honorary pallbearers were Jay Smith, Harold Turney, Art Wilbanks and Floyd Wilder.

Burial was conducted in the family plot at Port Mayaca Cemetery in Martin County. Mixson Funeral Home was in charge of arrangements.

DR. JOSEPH ROBERT NELLER

GAINESVILLE—Funeral services for a former Belle Glade resident were held Friday at First Presbyterian Church here.

Dr. Joseph Robert Neller, 85, a soil chemist who was on the staff of the Agricultural Research and Education Center before moving to Gainesville in 1944, died July 13 in his home following a long illness.

Survivors include his widow, Mrs. Irene V. Neller of Gainesville; a daughter, Mrs. Lois Webb of Gainesville; a son, John Neller of Gainesville; a sister, Mrs. Ida Gadola of Minneapolis, Minn. and four grandchildren.

Burial was in Hillcrest Memorial Park in Gainesville.

Exhibition scheduled

Plans are now underway for an exhibition by the Goldcoast Needlearts Guild to take place in the fall at the Henry Morrison Flagler Museum in Palm Beach.

General chairman Mr. R.D. Rueutan of Fort Lauderdale has announced honorary chairmen to be Mrs. Flagler Matthews and Charles Simmons, Flagler Museum Director.

Mrs. Matthews is president of the museum, which she founded in 1959 in honor of her grandfather, Henry Morrison Flagler.

The needlework exhibition, to be known as "Needlework is Art," is scheduled to open Oct. 18 and continue through Nov. 13. It is open to the public both on an exhibiting and visiting basis.

Those interested in entering examples of their needlework may receive entry blanks by writing to Mrs. Rueutan at 2215 N.E. 32nd Ave. in Fort Lauderdale.

Mental Health group to meet

BELLE GLADE—The monthly meeting of the Community Mental Health Center Glades Steering Committee will be held at 12:15 p.m. today at the branch headquarters at 300 West Canal St. South.

"We shall continue our discussion on a new facility," Director Jean Cogar said. "Also, a staff presentation will be made on our consultation and education service."

A DAILY INCIDENT!

Hardly a day passes without the newspapers reporting an automobile accident. Lives are lost and bodies maimed due to careless driving on our streets and highways.

Another daily incident which the newspapers often do not report, and to which others are indifferent, is the ruining of lives and character in the wretched, uneducated, and poverty-ridden parts of the great cities in our land. There are those who despair of ever getting out of their situation and so despondency sets in and a lack of desire to strive for worthy goals enters the spirit.

A loving God would have us aware of these whose lives, self-respect and character could be saved—if we were interested enough.

God often impresses the needs of His children upon those who attend His church. It is His will that we should show forth the love of God for mankind by helping all who are suffering.

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.
